

SPACE

You are held within the space, and more
You are spirit, and you are space
Minute, yet huge, unseen, undisturbed, ageless Silent,
like spirit, like space, like now.

Fragment from the poem "Space" by justme

1. Cut paper along dotted line.
2. Fold in half along shorter edge (while holding the paper in portrait mode, fold it in half horizontally backwards).
3. Fold it again in half (like closing a book) so that the title is on the front.
